Is Temp ID different from Auto ID?

[FAQ – Temp ID]

- Question
Is Temp ID different from Auto ID?

- Answer

Yes, they are different.

Temp ID is used to save images directly from the scanning mode, while Auto ID is used to automatically assign an ID during patient registration.

- * Temp ID allows images to be saved during scanning without registering a patient in the patient registration screen.
- * Auto ID is automatically generated and filled in on the patient registration screen, even without manual input.
